Issued Wednesday, June 3, 9:37 am ET

MURRIETA, CA--(PR NEWSWIRE)--June 3, 2009--Green Globe International, Inc. (Other OTC: GGII), the worldwide owner of the Green Globe brand, today released the June 2009 edition of its shareholder newsletter, which reviews several of the company's recent new agreements and strategic partnerships.

The June 2009 newsletter edition has been added to the company's website at <http://www.greenglobeint.com/articles/1>, and a text only version of the newsletter's release will be distributed to subscribers of the company's website-based mailing list.

Among the new strategic partnerships included in the newsletter is the agreement with Village Green Environmental Solutions, Australia, a leader in the field of emissions, water and waste auditing, to provide environmental certification for small businesses within the United States; an agreement with Responsible Business Alliance, a Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) advisory partnership, for specified markets in Central America and the Caribbean; and a partnership with The Heritage Environmental Management Company, South Africa, the country's leading environmental management company for the travel and tourism industry. The newsletter also reviews a new license agreement with Green Globe Asia Pacific (GGAP), a wholly owned subsidiary of EC3 Global. The agreement provides GGAP a license to provide certification services under the Green Globe brand to the travel and tourism industry on an exclusive basis in the Asia Pacific region (excluding mainland China) and non-exclusive basis in countries outside that region and in mainland China. GGAP has agreed to pay Green Globe Limited a license fee for the use of the Green Globe brand.

A new solar panel installation by Green Globe Certification client Ruby Falls, a top U.S. tourist attraction located near Chattanooga, Tennessee, is also highlighted in the June newsletter. The solar panels are capable of producing 16,000 KWH of renewable energy per year. This combined with the use of computer-controlled high efficiency lighting in both LED and compact fluorescents has reduced and offset power consumption by over 24%. In his greeting to shareholders, Green Globe International CEO Steven R. Peacock addressed the recent restructure of the company's common stock and how the company is currently positioned to attract additional investment. He wrote, "As evidenced by the announcements contained in this newsletter, Green Globe programs continue to spread around the world. The brand, while already the most widely known and well-respected international symbol for sustainability, is gaining greater recognition with each new partnership and program that is launched. In the U.S., we are currently working on several projects that, if successfully initiated, are anticipated to greatly increase recognition of the Green Globe brand with business, government and consumers. This is a market we will continue to pursue, given that there is tremendous room for growth and much to be achieved here.”

As part of the restructure, Green Globe International has been assigned a new stock symbol: GGII.

The Green Globe brand and program, which traces its roots back to the United Nations Rio de Janeiro Earth Summit in 1992, where 182 Heads of State endorsed the Agenda 21 principles of Sustainable Development, has primarily been used in the travel and tourism industry but is now being expanded to include a growing number of environmentally responsible businesses in a variety of market sectors. The Green Globe brand is an ideal symbol for the world's increasing awareness of environmental responsibility and response to global climate change.
